- Guidelines for Curriculum Vitae -

CV is limited to 3 pages!<sup>1</sup>

Please list:

- (1) Personal details: Personal details (name, researcher unique identifier(s) such as ORCID, research ID, etc., no photos), address of research institution, and relevant websites. In addition, a publicly accessible link to the list of all published publications is required.;
- (2) Education: List of academic milestones;
- (3) Position(s): List of academically relevant positions (with the extent of employment in the case of part-time employment);
- (4) Career breaks (if any): List of career breaks or delays (see Richtlinien des FWF);
- (5) Net research experience (optional): The length of time (in years and months) that has actually been used in net total for research – calculated in such a way as to be equivalent to full-time employment – and broken down into the time before and after completion of the applicant's doctoral degree. This is intended to make it easier for the reviewers to assess the principal investigator's qualifications in term of academic age;
- (6) Research interests: Description of the main areas of research and the most important research results achieved to date;
- (7) Academic publications: List of no more than ten of the most important published or accepted academic publications (journal articles, monographs, edited volumes, contributions to edited volumes, proceedings, etc.); for each publication, either a DOI address or another persistent identifier should be indicated, if available. In accordance with the Agreement on Reforming Research Assessment, journal-based metrics such as journal impact factors, Article Influence Scores, or the h-index should not be included;
- (8) Additional research achievements: List of no more than ten of the most important research achievements apart from academic publications, including achievements such as freely accessible research data including software and codes, awards, contributions to conferences, keynote lectures, significant research projects, peer review activities, promotion of junior researchers, exhibitions, interactions with society (including citizen science or transdisciplinary activities), science communication, knowledge transfer, licenses, or patents. If available, a persistent identifier or link to the research achievement must be provided.
